LITTLE BROWN JUG

It was football season, a crisp autumn day
When I was born in Sebring—a lump of clay.
Suddenly there was a commotion,
And someone said, “I make a motion”.
Another one said, “Let’s make a mug”.
“Oh, I know—a little brown jug.”
“We’ll be Tri-county champs; it’s in the bag.
Let the jug be a trophy just for a gag.”
I was poked and patted and molded into shape
Then colored and put into an oven to bake.
They came and got me for Sebring’s big day,
But something happened—things went Board-man’s way.
They won the game and the championship too.
That meant they got me, all shiny and new.
With other trophies I was put into a case
Where I couldn’t show off—there was so little space.
Then a year went by, and another and another.
Trophies crowded me till I thought I’d smother!
Alas! they took me out; I held my breath!
Have the Spartans lost? I was frightened to death.
But the mystery cleared, I found another place.
In a very handsome new trophy case.
Sitting and watching you pass each day
Made me yearn to see you at work and at play.
So from my shiny shelf enclosed in glass.
I jumped right down and followed a lass.
Rushed down the senior corridor, with sweet-
hearts on parade;
Saw games ’n parties with no admission paid.
Now I’ve peeked in every corner; opened every door;
I’ve even visited classes in search of learning and lore.
So come now, I’ll usher you through these pages—
Another volume of athletes and sages.

ADMINISTRATION

To the Class of 1945 of Boardman High School, congratulations and felicitations upon the successful completion of your high school course. May each succeeding year open new vistas of opportunity to you. May each today become a stepping stone for a brighter, richer, fuller tomorrow. May contentment be your lot and happiness your goal in upright, fruitful living.

A. L. HENDERSON

J. W. TIDD

Congratulations to you, class of 1945, on having successfully completed your high school course.

You had not yet adjusted yourselves to high school when the calamity of Pearl Harbor stunned the nation. Since that time you have been subject, both in and out of school, to strains and stresses, to demands upon your time and interests which must have been very confusing.

That you as a class have under such conditions, maintained both a high quality of work and all the traditions of the school, is distinctly to your credit.

Be assured that our best wishes and hopes for your success and happiness are always with you.

DEDICATION

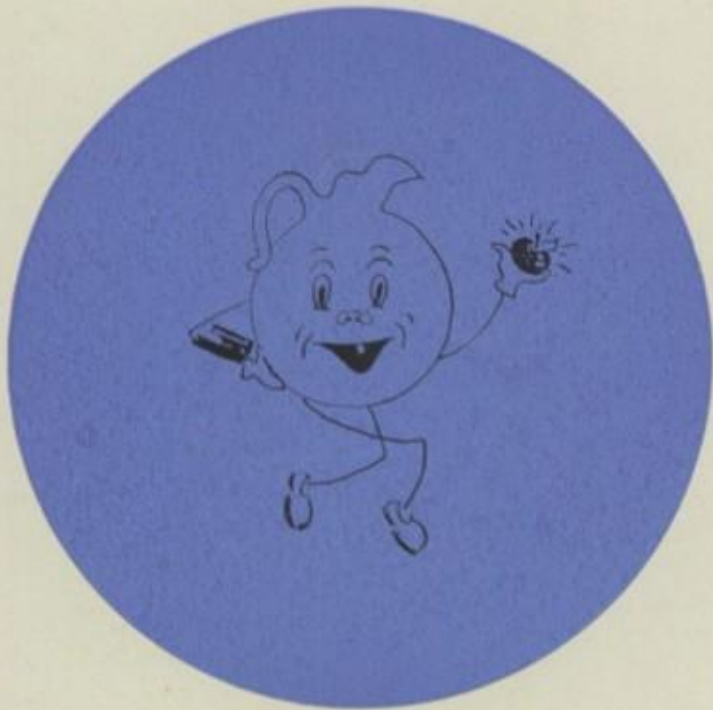

To the Spirit of Boardman High School—her loyalty, friendliness, co-operation, and good sportsmanship—we, the Seniors of 1945, dedicate this Crier.

FACUTY

We represent the average high school student body with the normal ability to have a good time, and, in all fairness, a nominal interest in things intellectual coupled with the usual amount of perseverance.

But lately have you noticed the newly-awakened, mentally alive students leaving a class room conducted by an animated, understanding personality? Our teachers, believe it or not, have through their own interests transformed our learning from a drab, monotonous subject into a deeply personal matter. We now realize the fact that the right to a clear-thinking, free mind is a luxury attained only through constant and conscientious application—a privilege extended to few but sought by many people all over the earth.

Let us next visit the gym floor or one of our athletic contests where usually some doggedly determined fellow is struggling to establish a new school push-up record—he is even developing a lantern jaw!. Our coaches in an extremely unobtrusive manner have been patiently planting and watering the seed which will some day produce well trained and disciplined minds.

At social affairs, our “props” and their wives actually stole the limelight! Often they were the spur towards that novel method of decoration and, as usual, their originality and ingenuity plus their communicable enthusiasm and cooperation produced heretofore unimagined results.

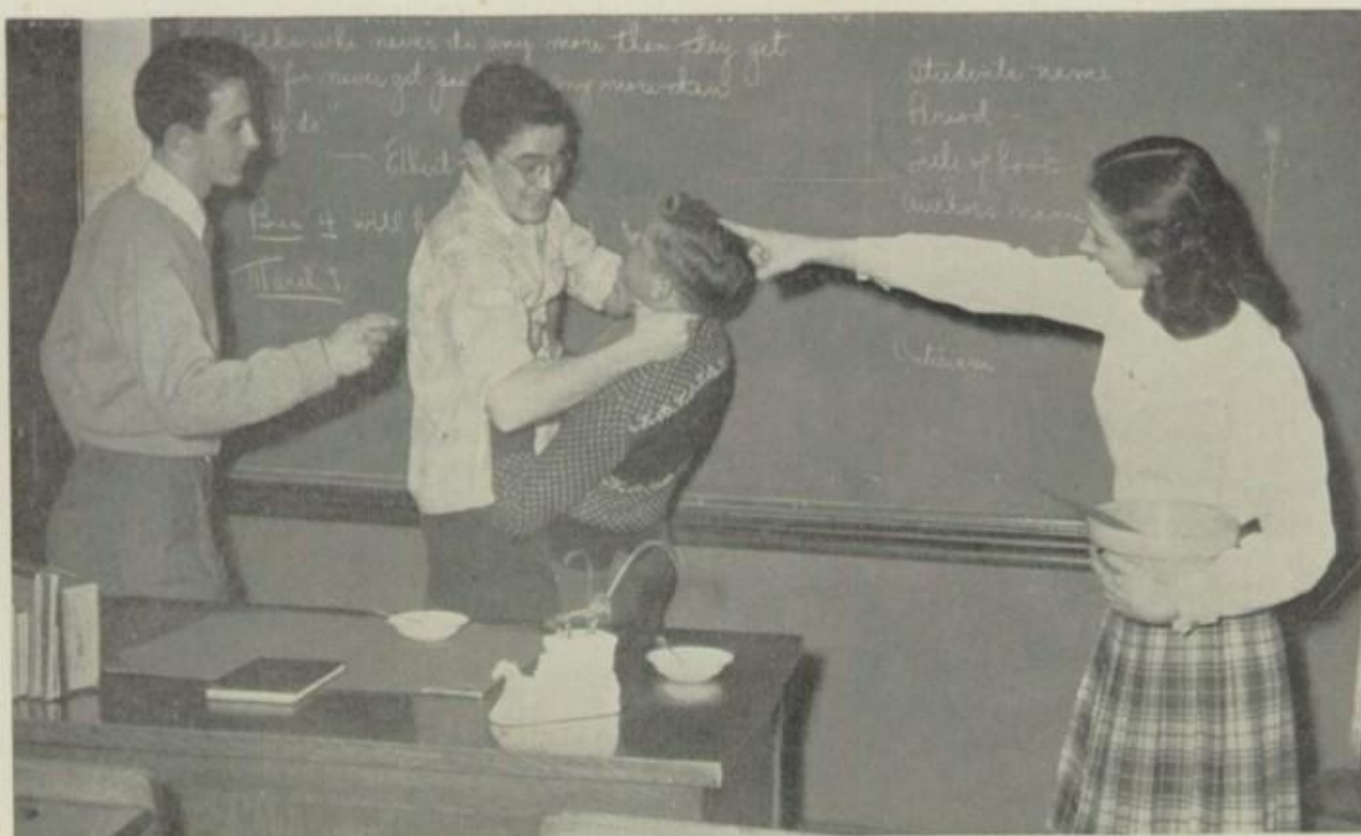

With such friends helping us to establish our goal, any future would appear bright. We shall always remember our faculty, who through their everlasting good will produced future democartic citizens of the world and instilled in us their standards concerning a better way of life.

We are proud to have known you.

SENIORS

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

One bright morning in September of 1933, we woke up feeling very excited. It was the first day of school for the present mighty seniors. Just imagine, six years old! Why, we were grown up—almost. With shining faces and newly polished shoes, we waited anxiously for that big yellow monster, the school bus.

We'll never forget first grade. Of all things we had a regular Juliet with us. Amelia Leiss insisted on proposing to all the little boys. Lucky girl! Also, I'd like to explain about the ogre that was loose in the halls. Whew! were we scared when he came along! I think his name was Mr. Henderson, but we soon learned not to be afraid of him.

The next year found us exploring the second floor—third grade. My, how we were progressing! Naturally, as we grew older, our hair styles changed, but little Ann Fowler just couldn't take it. Her mother had played barber, so Annie spent the next day with her head on her desk. She simply couldn't have people see her looking like that!

I believe it was fourth grade that tiny Mary Lou Joshua was coming to school with long curls, which for some reason couldn't elude the ink wells. I've often wondered if "Shakespeare" ever told her why. It was then, too, that Powers became our champion skier. After sliding down that big snow-covered hill, poor Bill discovered that it was really only a camouflaged mud bank. The rest of the afternoon was spent drying out in the janitor's room.

In fifth grade, we got a big thrill. Shirley Temple had come to Boardman! Imagine our surprise to find that it was really Bettielou Whitehouse.

The next year, clean faces, smartly-combed hair, and clean ears were in style. By this time, we were old enough to receive allowances. Marian Lenz outdid us all by receiving five cents a day from Eddie Fornwalt.

Eighth grade was the most astonishing of all. The boys finally began to think that girls were their friends instead of targets for snowballs and hair pulling contests. However, the girls stood around giggling and pretending they were a shy lot. Some front! How many of you remember the Minstrel Show? There'll never be another quite like it—at least to us. Malony, Holmes, Bixler, and Joshua sang solos. No, Josy, we haven't forgotten you. Remember? Ten curtain calls for our black-faced friend singing "Darktown Strutters' Ball."

And then came high school. Were we frightened by the upper classmen? And how! We just couldn't wait till we would get that far. When juniors and seniors would stoop as low as to speak to us, our hearts stood still. One of the first things we learned was that there was a person to whom the upper classmen referred as "Jasper." So we tried to find out Who or What "Jasper" was. We had him, or it, pictured in all sorts of ways, from a gremlin to a zombie. Lucky little freshies were we to discover in time that "Jasper" was none other than our own Mr. Tidd. For three years, we went through the weeding out stage when we dropped some mannerisms, and picked up others. We laughed, we cried, and above all, we fell in and out of love.

During this period, the Second World War struck, leaving us all with an empty feeling. We have many classmates fighting so that you and I may go on living. May God see fit to send them home to us.

Our history tells of fun, laughter, and sorrow. May our school be ever proud of each and every one of us as we make the history of tomorrow!

The petty officers, who made the big decisions of the year such as choosing the photographers for the senior pictures and announcements for the graduation exercises, consisted of Mary Lou Joshua, Barbara Watkins, Ruthe Johnson, Charlotte Chuck, Helen Gruger, Roger Tower, Ed Johnston, and Tom Fitzmartin.

At the beginning of the second semester, the crew assembled on deck to choose their class colors, flower, and motto.

Early in May the gymnasium was gaily decorated with the class colors for the gala Junior-Senior Prom. Then came the Senior Play followed shortly by Senior Chapel, during which the class will, history, and prophecy were read.

The gobs wore the traditional gowns of maroon and white at the commencement and baccalaureate exercises, when they took their final leave of Boardman.

STANDING—Mr. Bohn (Adviser), J. Jardine, E. Johnston, A. Holferd, R. Carlson, F. Hughes, C. Bixler, J. Yoder.
SITTING—C. Chuck, B. Mishler, M. L. Joshua, H. Gruger, R. Johnson, L. Henderson, D. Bair, B. Schofield.

Johnny Clover (Charles Bixler) Editor, and Spud Erwin (Jack Yoder) assistant editor, hear that Henry Quinn (Franklin Hughes) the school principal, has decreed that the staff of the "Penguin", Preston High School paper, must have an associate editor and that it must be a girl. Martha Willard (Carol Sloan) faculty sponsor of the newspaper, calls for an election and of all people Susan Blake (Mary Lou Joshua) is elected associate editor and Betsy Erwin (Betty Schofield) her assistant.

When Lucybelle Lee (Ruthe Johnson), southerner, who is a new student, wishes to have her poem published in the PENGUIN Christmas edition, the boys begin to let their social affairs with her interfere with their business.

Preston Hughes (John Jardine) Captain of the football team, furnishes the brawn-without-brain personality and Cappy Simmons (Arthur Holdford) represents the law.

The scene is in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clover (Lois Henderson) (Eddie Johnston). When the boys come down with the measles, Susan takes over—Result—a scrambled Christmas edition financed by a questionable barter system.

The success of the play was due to the many long hours the cast spent under the capable direction of Mr. Bohn.

CLASSES

BOMBS AWAY

The Junior Class got off to a flying start this year with Bill Deskin as pilot and Ted Lawton as co-pilot. Carol Blackwell maneuvered financial affairs while Joan Fell did a good job at navigating the books. Miss Rukenbrod was crew chief.

The class sponsored biweeklies and square dances to clear the runway for that great affair, the Junior Senior Prom.

Various arguments and opinions concerning the choice of class rings caused the class to go into a dive. They finally pulled out and proudly displayed their class insignia.

Many members of the class left for the armed services but those of the squadron remaining on the ground did their part to support the honor roll, school activities, and sports events.

The class wound up the year with their annual picnic. Everyone was well provided for both in food and fun.

The sophomore class marched back after a summer's furlough and chose as their Commander Dick Striebel and his aide Bill Cantwell. Joan Lemon was scribe for the company while Phyllis Eckman handled the financial affairs. Miss Atkinson acted as engineer.

Before very long last year's bewildered freshmen became this year's sophisticated sophomores and went confidently on their way to boost attendance at biweeklies, sports events, and school clubs.

This class also is proud to have several boys serving Uncle Sam.

Everyone from the Commander down to the K. P.'s enjoyed the annual picnic at Mill Creek Park. The company then disbanded and goodbyes were said as they again prepared for a furlough, after which they would begin a new campaign—that of being upperclassmen.

FRESHMEN

"GUNG HO"

The Freshman Class made an effective landing on the banks of Boardman High. These Leathernecks were a lively group, who chose as their Lieutenant-General, Don Steele and his aides Don Pinhey, Sally Brown, and Arthur Geiger.

With these leaders the class started on its long journey upward, gazing starry-eyed into the future, hoping that some day they too could be Top Sergeants to the new freshmen entering B. H. S.

Having acquired the Boardman spirit these recruits joined many school activities. In sports they furnished men in football, basketball, and track.

As the year ended the Leathernecks reported everything under control on the school front.

Here it is—your '45 Crier. We've labored hard and struggled with wartime restriction, but had fun putting it together.

Mariann Malony headed the staff with Normajean Taylor as her assistant. Theirs was the job of battling with paper and metal shortages, government priorities, and lack of film. They emerged from the struggle victorious but slightly weary.

Ruthe Johnson and her committee began early their task of characterizing the seniors. Meetings were held up by snowstorms and vacations, but they came through with characterizations true-to-life, only more so.

What's all that shouting and laughing about? It's just the feature staff gloating over another new joke. This year's writers of clever (?) sayings turned every meeting into a party. Who can forget their slumber party with thousands of things to eat (of course we mean beans) at 1:30.

Kitty Lou Leihgeber snapped those clear pictures of life around dear old B. H. S. We know paper was scarce but this fact was no excuse for the pictures handed in by Gus Reinhardt. They were printed on pink paper!

The activities writers under the direction of Sue McVey haunted club meetings, questioned officers, and listened to musical sessions while gathering information for write-ups of you and your doings. Their chief concern was that early February deadline.

Those snappy sport accounts were turned in by Jim Ramsey and his staff. His reporters enjoyed every minute of watching the Spartans perform.

Business matters of the Crier were safe in the hands of Jack Yoder. The cover design and animated Little Brown Jug you see skipping through these pages are the handiwork of Norma Peterman and her assistants.

Much credit goes to the rewrite girls. They were willing and even eager to do their share. These two "Shakespears" were Betty Marshall and Barbara Crosby.

The Crier staff was active socially too. Together with Bugle and Stagecraft they threw a super-Halloween Party with witches, goblins 'n everything. A torture chamber added to the terror of the unaware.

We want to express our appreciation to Miss Reeder for her valuable help and suggestions.

The Crier is yours with our hope that you will find it a true account of your life in Boardman High School.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE BUGLE NOW!

Signs posted about Boardman High early last fall announced the opening of the subscription campaign for the Bugle. Immediately, the staff organized their efforts to produce "The Student's Paper".

Our efficient Editor-in-Chief, Mary Lou Joshua, kept things rolling smoothly with Charlotte Chuck as her assistant.

"Now don't tell this to anyone. We want to keep it a scoop for the Bugle." These familiar words might be heard as Marilyn Liechty and her staff gathered the latest news around Boardman. Social events and club meetings were handled by Ruthe Johnson, while Wilson Fletcher gave us accurate, up-to-the-minute sports news. Jokes, personalities, and funny stories were "featured" by Carol Sloan and her reporters. Dorothy Warren, Becky Caldwell, Jackie Paulin, and Norma Peterman supplied the artistic flourishes. We'd like to thank the loyal typists for their efficient work.

As business manager, Eddie Johnston, kept a firm hand on the money bags, Don Rodis convinced the local merchants of the value of Bugle advertisements. The clear, readable print was the result of the labors of production-chief, Jack Fithian (and the new stencils). How well he remembered the printing press we almost bought as he cranked out copies!

Assembly line technique reached a new high as Bugles, hot off the press, were put together and stapled at an astounding speed.

The editor and the whole staff express thanks and appreciation to their advisers: Miss Reeser, editorial; Mr. Bohn, business; and Miss Parker, production.

AVIDA G. R.

To start off on the right foot toward a successful, eventful year, one hundred twenty Avida Girl Reserves "pow-wowed" their way through a campfire Indian dance. While crunching apples, the girls listened to stories, poems, and songs. The friendship circle then impressively closed the first meeting of the season.

A later meeting found Mr. Ford Agey discussing with the girls the problems of dates and social activities. As a result of this discussion, the G. R.—Hi-Y Carnival was held to bring together all the high school students. Various games, a play, and dancing were the entertainment of the evening.

A beautiful Recognition service, part of a two-fold Christmas program to which the Mother's were invited, distinguished the December meeting of these G. R.'s. "And the Angel Said," a Christmas play, was enacted by several of the girls. For the second part of the plan, the Service Committee made stuffed animals, which were displayed at a "Doll's Tea" at the Y. W. C. A. At this time Dot Garver's caroling group sang through the halls of the Y.

In January, the radio program, "Girl Reserves Be Seated" proved that some people will do anything for a laugh; and certainly plenty of laughs were heard, so you can see what little gremlins were present that night! These gremlins were chased away, however, and the girls were later found working on a Service project for the Junior Red Cross.

In February, a novel, entertaining program of movies was shown by Kitty Lou Leihgeber. These reels were some her father had taken of the present Junior class when they were in grade school.

The crowning social success of the season, on which the Social Committee spent long hours, was the "Cupid's Ball" which rolled around on February 10. G. R.'s and their dates packed the cafeteria. With Ann Hayes and Lois Henderson as her attendants, Shirley Bjorson, presented with a cuddly teddy bear, was chosen "Queen of Hearts."

In March a delicious spaghetti dinner was served in the cafeteria; everyone had fun with group singing, stunts, and later an all-music program sponsored by the Music Committee.

To wind up the year, the Girl Reserves enjoyed several social functions. In spite of the mad rush to the Warner Theater as Avida G. R.'s and their dates attended the theater party, no casualties were reported—it was a big success. In May the girls attended the annual picnic in Mill Creek Park.

Leading the Girl Reserves through this year was President Lois Henderson, with first helper, Shirley Bjorson. Scribbling away the minutes was Joan Fell, while Carol Coblentz kept the treasury reports.

The ever-understanding advisers, Miss Longwell and Miss Smith, with many helpful suggestions aided the girls in solving many problems.

THIRD ROW—M. Campbell, S. Kyle, J. Carlson, D. Garver, D. Warren, B. Caldwell, C. Sloan.

Leading Collega Girl Reserves this year were President Marjorie Jardine, Vice-president Sally Brown, Secretary Phyllis Eckman, and Treasurer Joan Kirby. Acting as advisers were Miss Garver and Miss Montgomery to whom we owe a great deal of thanks.

The meetings were alternately business and social. At the first social meeting a humorous play, enacted by the girls, was presented.

A jolly session of group singing ended the fun.

Miss Adriana Bouterse, guest speaker at the next social event, spoke to the girls on "Ways a Girl Reserve Can Give."

A lively discussion on "Postwar World Peace" led by Sally Brown climaxed the following get-together.

At an impressive recognition service, freshman girls were received into Collega. This preceded a talent contest in which many took part.

Outside activities included ice skating and theater parties all of which helped to round out a very enjoyable and successful year.

CULTURE IN SELF-EXPRESSION

For the second consecutive year under the able leadership of Miss Reeder the class, Culture in Self-Expression, was held for those students who wished to acquire that certain poise and politeness which make a cultured young man or lady.

The first few lessons dealt with correct posture, breathing, and development of a pleasing voice. With these as a background, we were instructed in pronunciation, enunciation, inflection, and tempo. These basic fundamentals helped us to overcome that fear of expressing ourselves and to develop our confidence, poise, and personality.

After these qualities were explained, discussed, and developed in exercise, they were put into practice through travel and sales talks, demonstrations, extemporaneous and after dinner speeches.

This course was designed not only to train a student to speak in public but also to train him to take his place in both the business and social world.

The course was climaxed by instruction in radio broadcasting which was made very realistic by Miss Reeder's practical experience in radio drama. After the technical terms which are used in the studio were explained each student was assigned a part either as sound effects man or actor in the radio drama, "Classification Preferred" by Robert Morgan.

Throughout the coming years these self-confident students who have completed the course will be better prepared to assume their responsibilities in this modern world.

PLAYGROUND MONITORS

After years of quarrels, ending with scratches, bumps, torn clothes, and such, a new plan for playground supervision was put into effect last fall. Each person participating in the program wears a badge with the letters "SP" which designate him as a member of the School Patrol.

The morning and noon patrols consist of Shirley Bjorson, Bettielou Whitehouse, Mack Walker, John Jardine, Tony Smith, Ted Lawton, and Bill Deskin with "Rib" Allen as their mentor. Their duties are to stop all quarrels, keep the children in their specified territory, keep them out of the way of moving cars, and take them to the sick room in case of accident.

The afternoon patrol consists of Bonnilou Mishler, Barbara Green, Pat Agey, Joan Sansome, Jean Kashmar, Mariann Malony, and Christine Metro with Miss Montgomery as their mentor. Their duties are to plan recreation, and teach the children group association.

The project has proven to be very successful this year so it will, undoubtedly, be continued next year.

Have you seen the little books the Kaybees have been wearing around lately? They are the new pins the girls have just acquired and for each wearer the book contains all the little secrets of the library throughout the year.

If you could open one of these books you would find on the first page the purpose of the Kaybees, which is to introduce a new phase of library work each month. This was done each time by a different committee who would plan and arrange the bulletin boards for the interest of the students.

Turning a few more pages you would find yourself looking over the duties of the librarians, such as, checking excuse slips, helping students to select books, checking books in and out, rearranging and repairing them, also straightening magazines and chairs after each period.

The plot thickens as you come upon the club itself which meets every two weeks with Marilyn Liechty conducting the meeting. Joan Fell reads the minutes and Lydia Ann Creed gives reports of the money spent. Book reports and interesting talks concerning the welfare of the library are given.

The last few pages of the book contain the social activities. A Halloween party was held in the old auditorium in conjunction with the Hi-Y and Stagecraft clubs. We were guests at a Valentine party too with Barbara Green as hostess.

These little gold books signify work and play to members of the library staff. They reflect the companionship shared by all who enter the library and hold personal memories for the Kay-Bees.

FICTION AND FACT FROM HI-Y'S ALMANAC

Makin' Believe

Events from a romanticist's view-point—not a realist's.

September 7: The Hi-Y with its million-dollar treasury chartered a plane for New York where it held a reception for new members in the swanky El Morocco Club.

September 14: As a complete diversion from school routine, the interested boys joined our fishing cruise on Lake Erie. All whales managed to escape our bait but we prided ourselves with the guppies that we tackled.

As It Happened

September 16: "The meeting will now come to order," remarked Jack Yoder, our new president, as the members assembled at school. Dick Bretz began his office as secretary by taking notes on the meeting, while Wilson Fletcher, newly elected treasurer, collected dues. John Jardine, vice-president, also performed his duty by appointing heads of committees.

September 19: The newly inducted members gave original, humorous speeches of introduction as a part of the initiation routine.

September 26: Laddie Slava, a former Hi-Y member, entertained us with a talk of exciting and adventurous exploits over Europe.

October 9: John Jardine told of his experiences as State Senator of Boy's State at Heidelberg College. According to his report, the Senator had a prosperous week for their annual salaries were raised from $10,000 to $15,000.

October 29: Paul Beede, who is well known among Boardmanites, gave a talk on "Appreciation of Parents."

November 7: Bombing missions over Europe as related by Bill Green was an enlightening meeting for everyone present.

November 11: This being Armistice Day we ornamented the auditorium with plain but attractive patriotic decorations for our Hi-Y dance. The American flag lighted with red, white, and blue was attractive.

December 26: Even though this was still Leap Year, the boys took the initiative and asked dates to accompany them to the annual All-City Hi-Y Prom held at the Nu-Elms Ballroom.

January 16: The admirable as well as the not-so-admirable qualities of each member were considered in an informal round table discussion.

February 13: Swish! Swish! was an unconstrained noise produced by the Hi-Y members as they devoured huge portions of spaghetti at the party held at the V Restaurant.

March 5: Once again this year four Hi-Y members represented our club in the city government for a day. The fellows boasted that when they took over the civil duties of the city, the major problems were greatly decreased.

April 21: The annual Spring Prom held at school came as our last social event. Tee Ross's orchestra furnished popular dance tunes, and the crowning of the queen took place during the intermission. This being a highly successful year for the Hi-Y Club, we give due credit to our advisers Mr. Hershberger, Mr. Thompson, and the Y. M. C. A. leaders.

THIRD ROW—R. Jackson, C. Eversole, R. Thompson, H. Houston, W. Hershberger (Advisers).

Once again another school year has drawn to a close, and it finds the Torch Club better organized and more successful than ever before.

This success, for the most part, has been due to the well-chosen and industrious officers. Taking full responsibility was our energetic president, Dick Frondorf, with his co-worker, Richard Shope. Those selected as treasurer and secretary were Dick Anderson and Clyde Schoenfeldt respectively. Sharing the responsibilities as advisers, Mr. Houston and Mr. Eversole guided the boys through their hardships and struggles.

The social activities of the club were of various types and furnished the boys with many hours of enjoyment. First, to welcome the new members, the Torch Club held a theater party at the Palace. Rita Hayworth starring in "Cover Girl" brought forth many hilarious laughs from the crowd. Afterwards, the party stopped at the Purple Cow for hamburgers and cocoa.

Upon the approach of fall a hayride was planned but had to be postponed because of rain. After a second attempt the prearranged hayride took place. All boys present enjoyed the bumpy ride in the moonlight.

On December 26, we held our big event at the Nu-Elms. Boardman Torch members were well represented at the dance—even the underclassmen tackled the intricate rhythms of the hot jump tunes played by Bill Ost.

For the first time in our history, the Torch Club has joined the Hi-Y League of good sportsmen. Our quintet defended the club in the league games that were held at Princeton School. Although they were not always victorious, the boys proved themselves to be courageous and spirited athletes.

Every member of the club wishes to thank the school, advisers, and Ted Moore from the Y. M. C. A. for all their help and co-operation.

On stage everyone! Curtain time five minutes! Watch your cues! These and many others were the last minute warnings given to the stagecraft members, as everyone rushed to his place before the curtain went up on the Stageset Benefit of 1945. The three act mystery, "The Hermit's House", was chosen by the members instead of the usual group of three one-act plays. Each person was assigned some duty, whether it be to act in the play, or to work on a committee in charge of costumes, scenery, lighting, or props. The play was a great success and as usual highlighted the Stagecraft year.

Several social activities were held throughout the year, among these the main event was the annual party for members of the Stagecraft Club and the Crier and Bugle Staffs. This turned out to be a highly successful night for everyone. Then in the spring a party was held for the dramatic artists only. This also was very enjoyable.

In the month of March several of the actors and actresses presented the play "The Pampered Darling" to the Boardman P. T. A. The parents and the teachers greatly appreciated this performance and it added another bead to the Stagecraft string of honors.

In March, the club was privileged to watch a rehearsal of the Youngstown players in "Damask Cheek". This evening proved to be extremely helpful as well as enjoyable.

Heralding this year to great success was the adviser Mr. Bohn, whose helpful guidance improved the acting of the members. The purchasing of books entitled "The Elementary Principles of Acting", was beneficial to each member.

Much credit should also be given to the officers for their tireless work in keeping the organization moving. Ruthe Johnson, president; John Miller, vice president; Peggy Lou Egan, secretary; Mae Addison, treasurer; constituted the advisory board.

YOUTH CENTER

Since the Youth Center's beginning a year and a half ago, many new improvements have been made and new facilities for the entertainment of the members have been added.

The second floor ballroom of the Y Club has been completed and "Saturday Night" dances with music provided by local bands are a regular feature. A pool table and a billiard table, both recently acquired, are constantly in use. One night a week is "swim night" at the "Y" for Youth Center members only. Also during the week are movies, ping pong tournaments, and lessons in chess and social dancing for which the stock of popular records is kept well up to date. Hikes, picnics, and hayrides are held when the weather permits.

The Youth Center is under the capable supervision of Mrs. William Powers, a Boardmanite, who handles all the business and prepares the refreshments for the "Snack Bar."

STUDENT LOAN

A new organization came into the limelight this year in the form of the Student Loan Association. This project was formed during the second half of the school term under the supervision of Mr. Bohn.

The history classes chose a committee to investigate the system used by Princeton Junior High School. It was decided that this plan was quite well constructed; therefore, the seniors adopted a plan similar to Princeton's.

Articles of Incorporation were drawn up as the first step of procedure, shares of stock were printed and then sold to the seniors.

The Board of Directors consisted of Alyce Steck, Wilson Fletcher, John Jardine, Howard Mortenson, and Jack Yoder with Mariann Malony acting as secretary and treasurer. This group drew up the charter.

Dividends on stock were declared at the end of the school year and the association was dissolved, so that the coming class of seniors might have the experience of reorganizing this worthwhile venture.

COLOR GUARD—H. McFadden, R. Jacobson, H. Pridham, T. MacDonald.

Hup! Hup! Hip Four! became a familiar phrase as our new drill sergeant, Dave Proctor, attempted to convert the Boardman Band into a group of well-trained marchers. We all well remember the days and weeks of preparing for the home football games in which the band exhibited their ability as both musicians and hardy cheerers.

Leading the band this year at the home football games, the high-stepping drum majorettes and color guards presented a striking contrast to the maroon and gold uniforms of the music makers. Dressed in white costumes trimmed with gold braid, Jean Miles and Bettielou Whitehouse displayed their ability with batons and performed acrobatic dances to the delight of their audiences.

The peppy tunes produced by the band helped furnish our victorious football team with much incentive and moral support.

More than ever this year the orchestra has had an opportunity to display its many talented musicians. Their first success was achieved while furnishing an interlude of music for the public over WFMJ on the "High Schools on Parade" program. Also participating in the Minstrel Show, the orchestra produced a colorful discourse of various types of music. Commencement came as the final climax of the year, in which the graduates were inspired by the themes expressed through the orchestra's melodious music.

To Mr. Minter, for his indefatigable efforts, we extend our heartiest appreciation and gratitude.

CHORUS

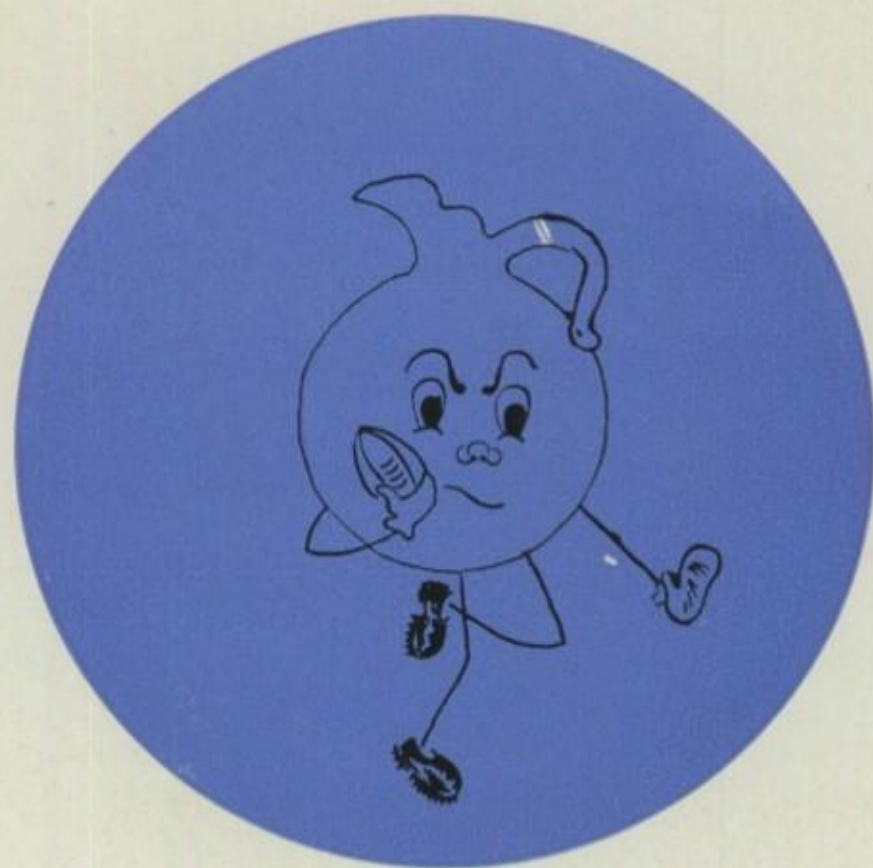

Using "With a Song in Our Hearts" as their theme the Boardman High School Chorus of 125 students just couldn't help singing. These students had a genuine interest in music plus the willingness to work for the betterment of the entire class. In addition to vocalizing and harmonizing, the group spent countless fruitful days on theory, for a deeper understanding and appreciation of music. Classes met twice a week with the following students as accompanists: Bill Gibbons, Betty Heintzelman, Kitty Lou Leihgeber, Mariann Malony, Marilyn Pounders, and Helen Roberts.

With the jests of the ever popular blacked end men as a background to a good old fashioned minstrel show in April, the harmonious strains of this chorus accompanied by the high school orchestra, filled the auditorium. Besides the choral numbers various solos rendered by Charles Bixler, Bob Emery, Robert MacDonald, Herbert Pridham and Barbara Hughes, JoAnne Murray, Betty Heintzleman, Jean Hendricks, Dorothy Garver, Helen Roberts, Mariann Malony, Charles Bixler, Bob Emery, Robert MacDonald, Herbert Pridham, and John Miller helped to pronounce the "Southland Serenade" one of the greatest student successes on the school calendar.

As the finale to a series of successful performances throughout this year, familiar anthems and hymns were sung by the chorus, acting as a choir, at the Baccalaureate Service.

To Mr. Minter, without whose fine direction the chorus would not be a success, we give three rousing cheers.

 FIFTH ROW—R. Shornhorst, L. Daugherty, J. Heatherington, R. Neapolitan, W. Miller, P. Seckler, R. Bauman, L. Jacobs, R. Williams, J. Young.

August 20, 1944 saw twenty-eight hopeful aspirants to the first squad of Boardman's football team meeting for the first time that fall. Then was begun the training which would turn them into the powerful steam roller which loyal Boardmanites saw push its way to victory after victory.

In our first football game of the 1944 season, Boardman defeated the Rayen team by a score of 26-6. Outweighed fifteen pounds per man the Spartans capitalized on their greater speed to win.

On September 23 at Newton Falls, Boardman's gridders, downing a fighting home team 19 to 6, marched off with their second game of the season.

Playing under the lights at Rayen Stadium, Boardman lost for the first time in 26 games, while East was the victor by a score of 33-0. The experienced East team packed too much power for Boardman, but the Spartans went down, fighting all the way.

On the rebound of the East setback, Boardman's hunchbacks crushed Lisbon with a score of 47-7. The Spartans tallied in every quarter and held Lisbon scoreless until the closing seconds of the game. The victory marked the first Tri-county game of the season for Boardman.

On October 14 before a crowd of enthusiastic fans, the Spartans took a hard fought contest from a fighting Louisville eleven with a score of 7-0.

Boardman-16, Columbiana-7 was the score as the Spartans registered their third Tri-county success. Honoring their Dads at the game, the boys displayed their ability to play real football.

FOOTBALL

The Spartans took undisputed possession of first place in the Tri-county League with a 13 to 0 victory over East Palestine on October 27. It was their fourth league win against no defeats.

Aided by boots, umbrellas, and raincoats, a handful of loyal Boardman rooters were on the scene to watch the mudsplattered Spartans ooze their way down the field to drown Minerva under a torrent of 33 points to 0.

For the thirtieth triumph in the last 31 games, Boardman's gridders dropped a 19-6 decision to it's traditional rival, Sebring, capturing the Tri-county title for the third consecutive year.

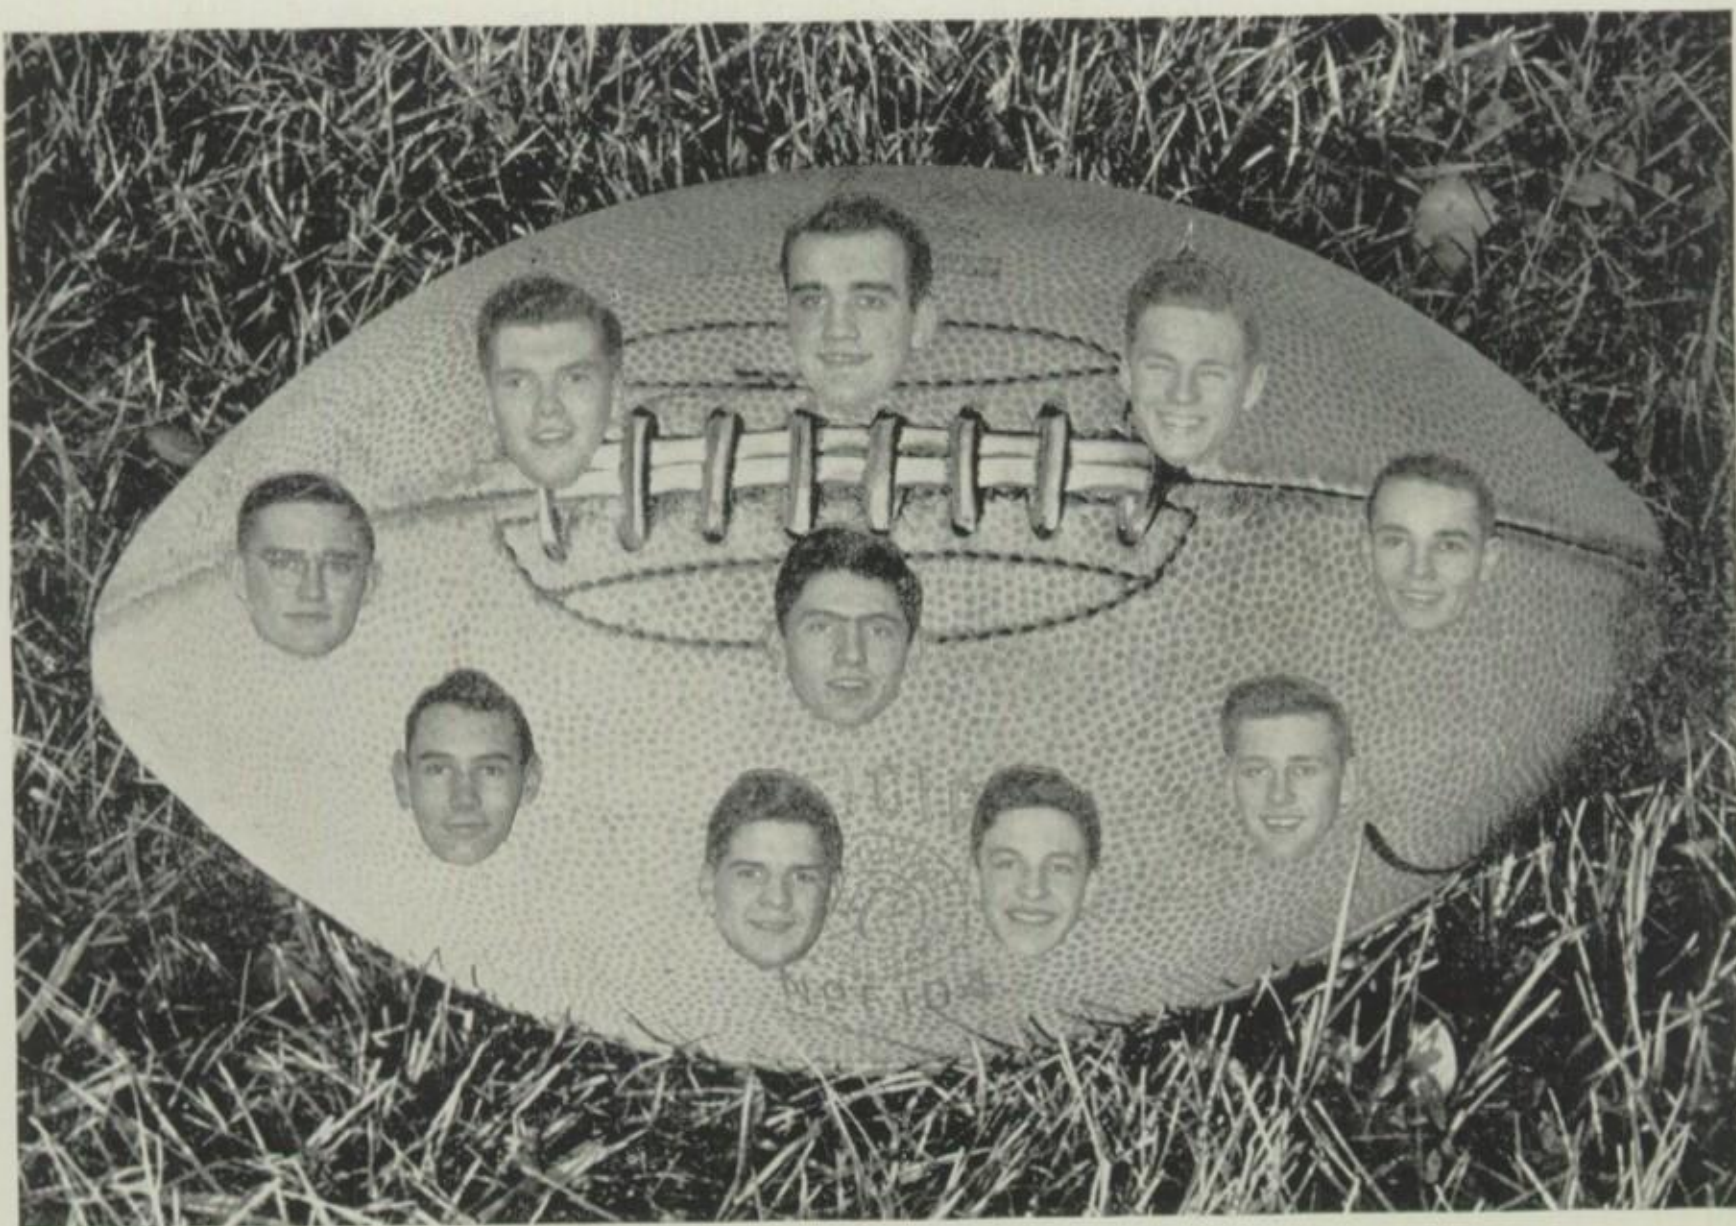

That rounds out the record of this year's games. We of Boardman are mighty proud of the boys who accomplished this feat.

Rib and Dave deserve our heartiest congratulations for turning out the third straight gang of Tri-county champs.

FOOTBALL SENIORS

Captain John Jardine—"Jose" is an excellent ball handler who spurs the boys on with his enthusiasm and team spirit.

Paul Walter—This speedy halfback adds many extra points to the score. "Sonny" also makes many touchdowns on around end plays.

Dick Bretz—"Dick" really scores the touchdowns. There's no half-hearted line backing for this shifty stalwart of the gridiron.

Mack Walker—Handling the kick-off is his specialty. Mack holds the title of Boardman's ace "block and tackle".

Joe Courtney—Catching passes is "Joe's" end. Like a Texas Ranger, he always gets his man.

Howard Mortensen—"Mort" is a fellow who is tops at tackling weighty problems, and especially good in blocking plays.

Jim Metz—"Jim" finds his fame in smearing all reverses. He's also proved himself a good pass receiver.

Roger Tower—This guard is a good offensive blocker—"a little tower of speed and aggressiveness.

Wilson Fletcher—"Tall in the shoulder pads," this battling end snags many a pass. "Fletch" out for his first year was a worth while addition to our team.

John McDonald—He's a peppery tackle and a good fighter on the defensive. "Truck" as his name implies, has the proper build to accomplish much in this sport.

FIRST ROW—P. Walter, J. Jardine, W. Fletcher, T. Smith, J. Metz, R. Bretz.
 SECOND ROW—Mr. Hood (Coach), J. MacDonald (Manager), A. Miller, T. Lawton, D. Hanna, R. Carlson, R. McGaughey, W. Deskin, J. Shurtleff, R. Shope, Mr. Hatcher (Coach).
 THIRD ROW—R. Kleyn, G. Rhiel, D. King, F. Zimmer, D. Inglis, D. Faulkner, J. King, D. Simon, D. Pinhey, J. Conway.

Football season had just ended when basketball practice began. Because of the vigorous exercise the game affords, the boys require many weeks of preliminary training. Our first game was scheduled for December 8 and by that time they were ready and eager to begin.

For the opening game the Boardman five traveled to Fitch where they defeated the home team by a score of 45 to 37. It was a fast game and an exciting opening to our '44-'45 season.

The second game brought Lowelville to our home court. The Spartans were downed by a score of 33-32.

The following Friday found Scienceville and Boardman engaging on our floor. At the end of the game the scoreboard showed 44 points for Scienceville and 34 for B. H. S.

The final game of '44 was played at the South field house where South was victor by a 45 to 30 decision.

Boardman's quintet next met Wilson and was loser for the fourth consecutive time. The score was 30 to 28.

But the Spartans rallied in the next game with Lisbon and defeated them 41-29. This game was the first Tri-county win for the maroon and white and seemed to boost their morale.

Having hit their stride, the boys now downed Rayen's team by a score of 54-44. This marked the second of six consecutive victories.

BASKETBALL

Boardman's next league rival was Louisville whom they toppled 45 to 37. This decision also marked another Tri-county victory.

East Palestine next bowed to our team by a 56 to 41 score. Since speculation had been against them, the Boardmanites were determined that they would win—and they did.

Boardman's next opponent was Poland Seminary whom they defeated in an exciting and hard fought game. The final score was 46 to 34.

The Spartans got another feather in their victory caps when they downed Sebring 40 to 34. This was their fourth Tri-county win.

On February 2, our team went to Campbell where Memorial swamped them in a 71 to 47 victory.

After this set back the quintet trounced East by a score of 50 to 38.

Playing at Minerva next, Boardman won its fifth league triumph. Minerva was dropped by a 59 to 43 decision.

February 16 found the Spartans at Columbiana for the final game in the Tri-county contest. The score was 52 to 34, the Spartans being the only team able to hold Columbiana under 60 points.

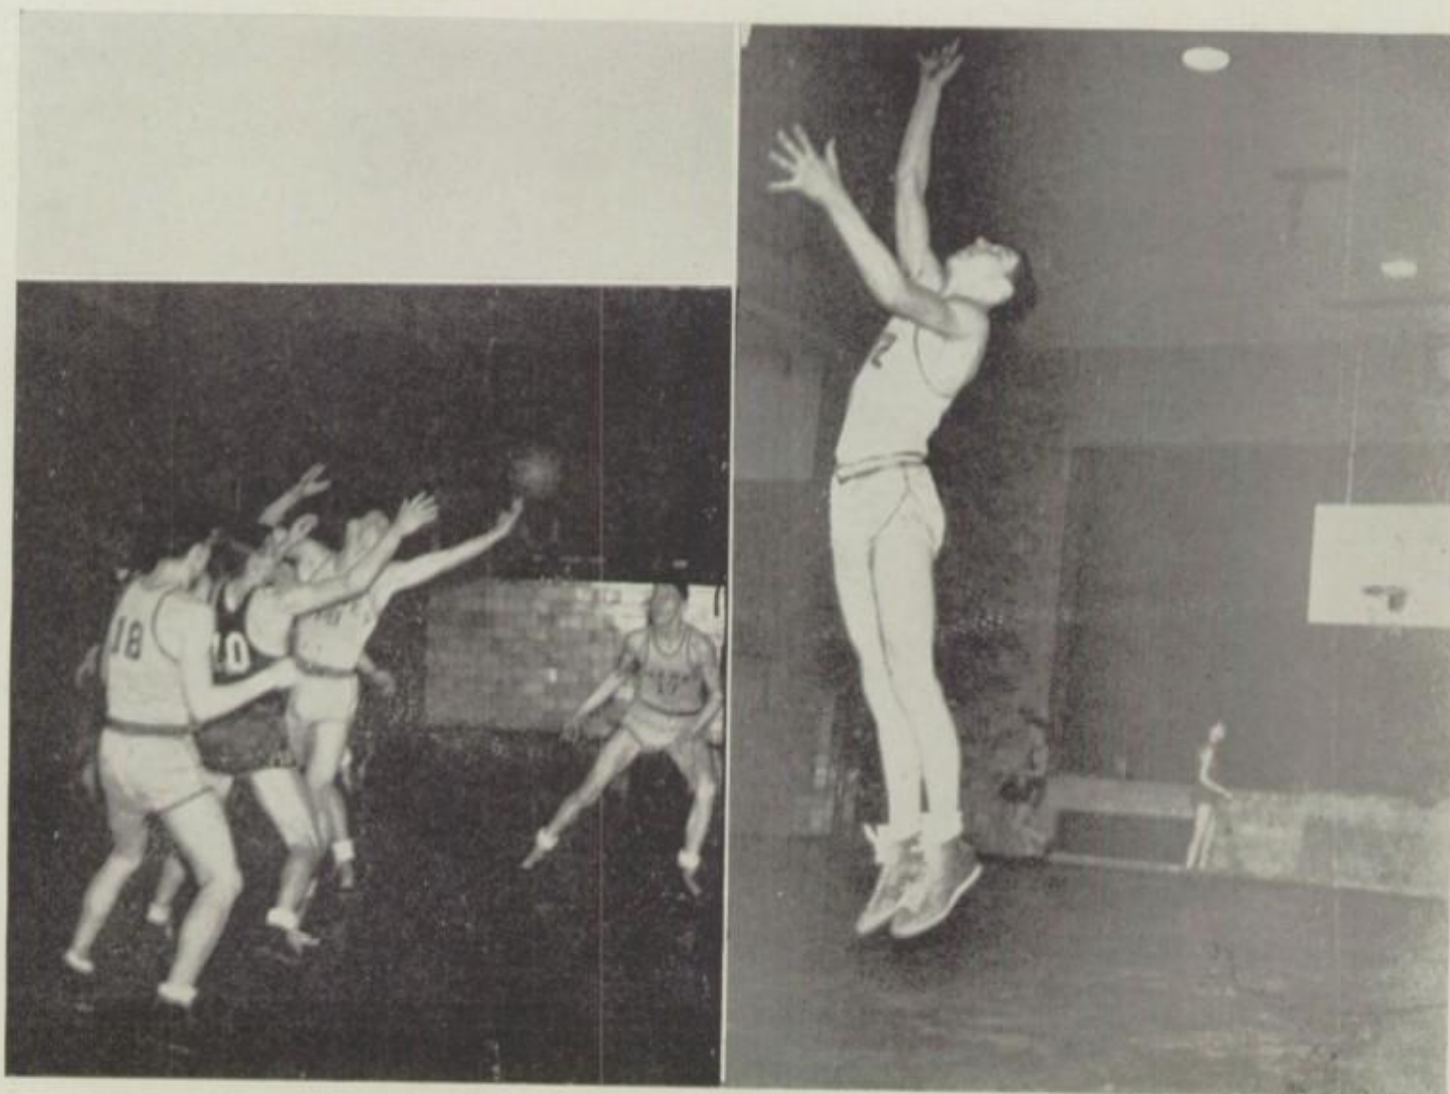

In the next game Boardman beat Chaney by 47 to 43, the four-point edge being acquired in an overtime. At this game Tony Smith established a record by making 31 points.

Ursuline, next on the schedule, was defeated by a 47 to 28 tally.

Ending the games with a 62 to 29 victory over Hubbard, the Boardman record showed 12 wins to 6 losses.

Considering the opposition that our boys met, we feel that the season was one of the most successful in the history of the school.

The team played more games than in any other season and Coach Hatcher firmly believes that if the temporary services of two boys had not been lost at the beginning of the season, the record would have been much better.

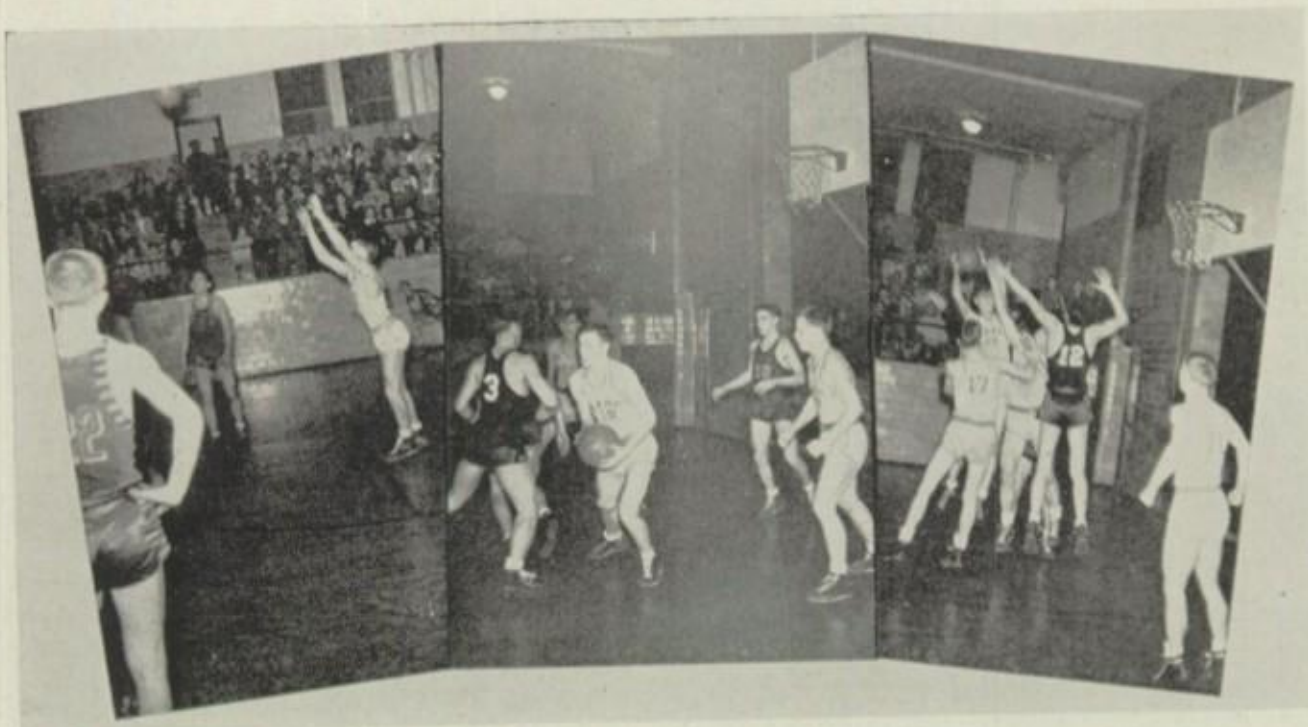

SENIORS

The season was successful not only in winning many victories, but also in the development of sportsmanship and ability. Many a year will pass before a group of boys such as these, who get personal pleasure out of co-operating for the good of the team, is found.

To all the Boardman Boosters—many thanks! The attendance and enthusiasm at the games this year was excellent.

But especially we wish to congratulate Dave Hatcher. Because of his hard work and capable leadership, he placed the Spartans second in the Tri-County.

After completing the toughest but one of the most successful seasons of eighteen regular games, the boys were destined to play four games in the N. E. Ohio sectional tournament.

Our first and second games against East Palestine and Woodrow Wilson were easily won. The third game was unusual in that we knocked off Salem, the only seeded team to be defeated in the tournament, netting us large headlines and much publicity.

Our appearance in the finals was against Canton Timken who had little trouble defeating a team which had extended itself to the limit the previous night.

This is the farthest any Boardman team has gone since entering Class A competition and gained for us a trophy and a medal for each team member.

GRADUATING SENIORS

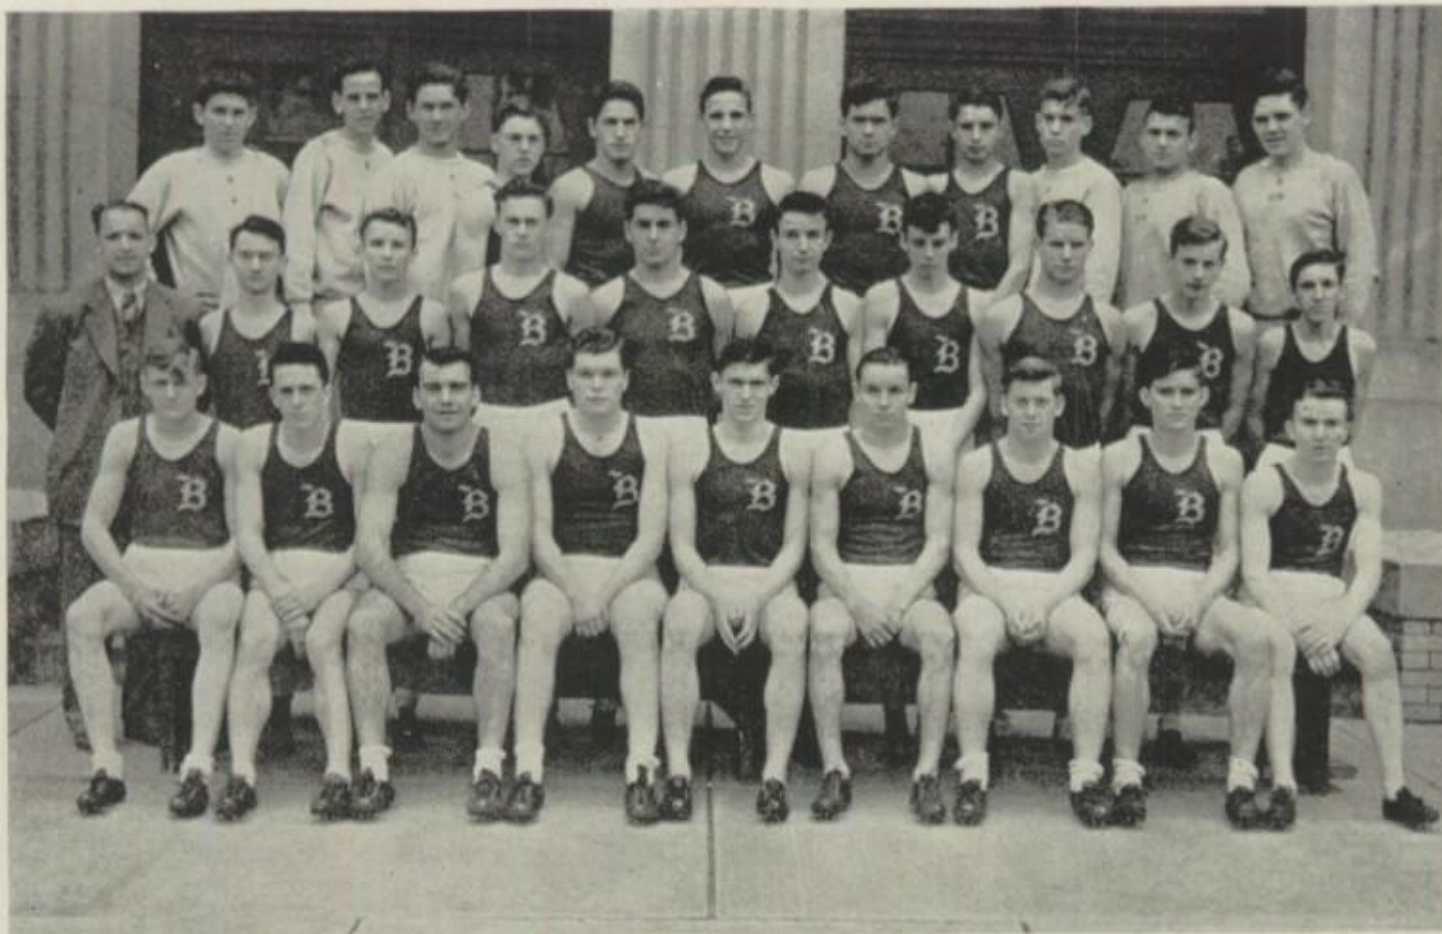

John Jardine—"Jose" is the most outstanding defensive player Boardman has ever had. He improved greatly on offense during the latter part of the season.

Paul Walter—"Sonny" was the most aggressive player on the team. He could always be depended on to come through in the pinches.

Jim Metz—Here is the most spectacular shot Boardman has had in many a season. When Jim was "on" he was hard to stop.

Dick Bretz—Dick's attitude and sportmanship would be hard to match on any team. When the going was rough he could always be relied upon.

Wilson Fletcher—"Fletch" possessed not only height but also intelligence. He will be hard to replace next year. Good rebound man.

FRONT ROW—H. Moldovan, H. Dilley, H. Martenson, J. MacDonald, J. Jardine, P. Walter, R. Bretz, J. Courtney, J. Dorn.
 SECOND ROW—Mr. Allen (Coach), J. Yoder, R. Davis, K. Dole, T. Smith, R. Mansfield, M. Gillies, T. Lawton, R. Stevens, J. Davies.
 LAST ROW—A. Smith, R. Bauman, R. Striebel, D. Pinhey, B. Struick, D. Faulkner, P. Baker, G. Rhiel, E. Gibson, W. Datson, C. Schoenfeldt.

The Spartan thinclads opened their 1945 track season Friday, April 13, in a triangular meet with Fitch and Springfield Township. The results were as follows: Boardman 95½; Springfield 33; and Fitch 23½. Dilley took top honors by winning the 100 yard dash, 220 low hurdles, and placing second in the 220 yard dash. He was closely followed by Jardine, who captured first in both the 440 and the 220 yard dashes and was a member of the winning mile relay team.

On April 18, Boardman, on the home oval, made it three in a row by downing Struthers 79-35. Dilley starred, garnering 15 points for the winners, while Jardine captured two firsts.

The first annual All-Star Track Meet was held at Boardman on April 21. This meet, derived of team competition, will probably meet with great success in following years. The standards were set up by Mr. Allen, and only those capable of meeting these standards were entered. The Spartans were well represented by Jardine who took both the mile and half-mile, Dilley, who took the 100 yard dash and placed third in the 220 and 440, and Walter who won the pole vault and tied for third in the high jump. Bretz, Davies, Dole, Gilles, and Smith were also entered from Boardman.

 ABSENT—L. Creed.

G. A. A. began this year's fun and frolic with Barbara Green as president, Mary Jane Baun vice-president, Jean Geis secretary, and Caroline Sanford treasurer. Becky Caldwell was elected intramural manager with Betsy Jones as her assistant.

Our new adviser was Miss Anglemeyer but toward mid-semester she suddenly decided to be a full time navy wife.

Soon after Christmas vacation another red-haired gym teacher made her debut at B. H. S. Miss Montgomery supplemented her classes with new games and novel ideas straight from college.

One of the big doings of the year was a hayride held in the early fall. Much noise and singing was heard as the two wagons traveled down to Five Points and back to Market Street. Club members and their dates invaded Millers, for refreshments, and left the floor and tables adequately covered with hay.

Other social events of the year included an Installation Service for the officers, an Election Party, and a Recognition Service for new members.

As usual the tournaments held the spotlight throughout the year. A new game, Kick Pin Baseball, was introduced at the opening of the season. The seniors took the honors in this contest as they did in basketball which followed. Of course a few casualties were suffered, the worst being a broken fingernail. The baseball and speedball tournaments in early spring closed a year of good sportsmanship and fun for every member.

CHEERLEADERS

Beat me Daddy with a boogie beat,
Our team is mighty sweet!
Solid! Murder! Strictly on the beam!
Boardman High School-that's our team

Victory! Victory! is our cry!
V-I-C-T-O-R-Y
Will we win it?
Well, I guess!
For we belong to B. H. S. !

Installing these new cheers in the Boardman catalogue of pep builders, the snappy foursome swung into another season of sports. These boosters were Becky Caldwell, Peggy Lou Egan, Marjorie Jardine, and Margaret Ann Gibbons. Jack Yoder also helped to raise the morale of the crowd by displaying tricky acrobatic stunts. Our peppy cheerleaders were to be seen at all the games, regardless of the weather, cheering the football team on to victory.

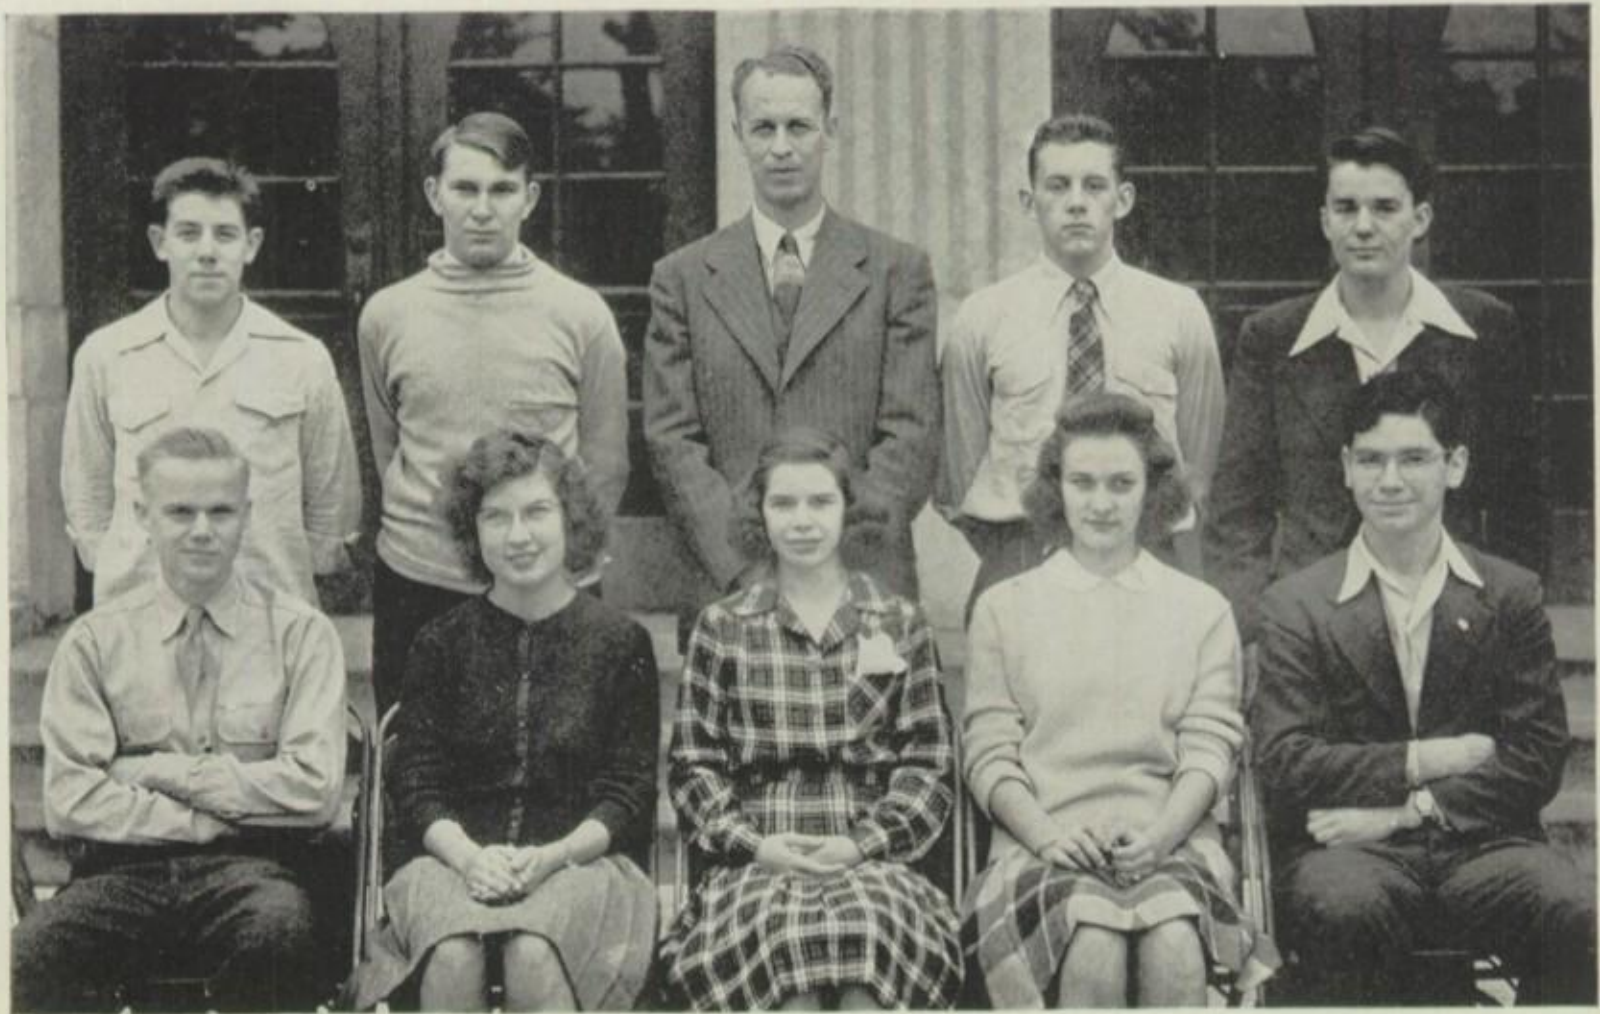

With a few changes in routines the cheers became like new, as the basketball season was ushered in and the team spurred on to win.

Missing next year from the morale squad will be Margaret Ann Gibbons who is leaving Boardman and moving to Rochester, New York. Good work, Margaret! Good luck, too!

Dorothy Warren, a sparkling midseason addition to the squad will replace Margaret Ann in the fall.

RIFLE CLUB

BOTTOM ROW—R. Leppo, J. Hendricks, B. Crosby, M. Liechty, D. Proctor.

SECOND ROW—R. Weinhold, J. Spatholt, T. Todd (Adviser), J. Anderson, G. Reinhardt.

The sound of bullets hitting their targets echoed throughout the empty school corridors as Boardman's sharpshooters "aimed and fired" during their regular Wednesday night practices. Rich Leppo, chief of the range, with Dave Proctor, his assistant, led the group, while Lydia Ann Creed and Barbara Crosby kept track of the meets and the funds.

The new members entering Rifle Club received instructions as to positions for firing and safety on the firing line. Mr. Pyle, the instructor, and Mr. Hood, school adviser, worked patiently with the squad all through the year helping to make the Boardman Rifle Club one of the best in this section.

In addition to the regular schedule of matches with rival schools, these Boardman nimrods enjoyed a skating party at Lake Newport, a swim at the Y. M. C. A., and a theater party in the spring.

Having grown into a popular and beneficial organization with some exceptionally fine marksmen, Boardman's Rifle Club this year became a member of the National Rifle Association. We are proud of this honor and wish to extend our hearty thanks to all who have helped to achieve this rank.

Quoth the Senior - "Nevermore"

Once upon a midnight dreary,
While I slumbered, weak and weary,
The spirit of the Senior crept in—
Sat upon the bed I slept in.
When I questioned what 'twas for,
Sadly quoth he, "Nevermore."

Mournfully he said, "I fear
That I ne'er again shall hear
All the quips so droll and witty,
Many a pun and many a ditty—
All the fun we had before,"
Sighing said he, "It is o'er".

Brightening somewhat, he went on
Although the actual deeds are gone
Although they can no longer be,
We relive them in memory.
We can recall them by the score!
Let us share the fun we had before!"

The state of Pennsy's your employ
And you invest in Illinois——
Margaret Carle's of the delusion
She'd be in a state of confusion.

Bob Williams, sage of English class,
Says strange things often come to pass.
Francis Bacon met his demise
While with a chicken — aren't you surprised?

Pearl Sutton, quiet as a rule,
One day decided not to come to school.
She slipped off the bridge (she said)
And had a nice mud bath instead.

Try as she will to resist, it's no good;
As she always says yes when asked if she would.
She reminds you of a sweet little elf;
For Carol is busy in spite of herself.

When Barbara Green goes out to eat,
Hamburgers to her are no treat;
Chicken dinners are her whim;
Is that how "Barbs" remains so trim?

Silence please! Let him sleep;
He has slumbered into the deep.
Bill Hanna is our study hall snoozer;
In his dreams he's sailing on a cruiser.

He, on one Senior chapel day
Did this disproof quite display.

David Conway's a progressive boy
Who works for his money — what a joy!
He'll take your car and make it shine,
And when he's through, you'll say it's fine.

Junior Clemons was angry as could be;
The cause of his dilemma we'll soon see.
He had parked his car to take a swim
And returned to find it locked from within.

I'm sorry sir, we're out of that;
Maybe we have a red and blue mat.
Selling in a dime store — she'll tell you is fine.

Raised her hand boldly to say,
"The spark plugs are missing, now where did

"Look under the hood dear, and there they will

But it has MacDonald up a tree.
It is an easy subject to learn,
But it has Big John on the burn.

Leah Rickert, that's her name,
Makes English teachers blush with shame.
She's all mixed up — here's the jist —
David Copperfield's by Oliver Twist.

We asked her once a white elephant to bring,
And she thought we meant the genuine thing.
Just think of Gruger with the real McCoy
When we only meant a little toy.

He's looking, he says, for a paper doll.

Give us snow, lots of snow,
And to school we won't go.
Dorothy Garver's wish came true,
And the rest of us weren't too blue.

We all remember that glorious day,
The football game was in the play,
Dick Bretz was fighting there like mad,
But in the end — no tooth he had.

A MONEY BACK GUARANTEE ON ALL PUGH DIAMONDS

Does a money back guarantee from a jeweler sound strange to you? It shouldn't—not when that guarantee comes from Pugh Brothers. Pugh Bros. never have and never will sponsor products that fall short of the high standards of quality established by them over thirty years ago.

To prove their faith in the products they offer, Pugh's give you this money back guarantee on every diamond in their collection.

MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

A written money back guarantee will be given upon request with every Pugh Diamond sold.
